Celebrating local seasonal food, farms, and community

Final Feast of the Season with Garden Tours and the “Oddest Auction Ever”

Thursday, May 27th

5:30 to 7:30 PM

in the Lopez School Multipurpose Room

We are very excited about the ongoing success of this festive community gathering that supports local, seasonal, and sustainably grown food from local farms. And we thank all of the supporters, attendees, and volunteers throughout the year. Please join us for this final feast of the season, which includes great food, a garden-themed auction, live music from the high school choral group, and garden tours!
